STREET DANCE TONIGHT AT 8

Tonight is a big night for the lovers of the dance and carnival. The Newmarket Lions club is holding its street dance, floor-show, midway and bingo on Main St. at 8 o'clock. The proceeds will be used to further the summer recreation program for the children of Newmarket.

The club has brought together a program which should appeal to everyone. For the radio fans, the show, Did I Say That, is being presented at 8.15 p.m. Russ Creighton and his orchestra will supply the music for the dancing on Main St.

The Newmarket Lions club is sponsoring a summer recreation program for public school children under the direction of Vice-Principal Fred L. Hall. The program will run during the month of July and the first part of August. The program is offered to the children without any obligation on the part of the parents as a means of providing healthy and organized recreation. To-night's carnival and dance is being held to raise funds to further this project.

J. E. Smith Carries Riding For Liberals, Has 1,193 Majority

J. E. "Jack" Smith, editor of the Richmond Hill Liberal, won York North riding for the Liberal party in last Monday's federal election. He had a majority the winning candidate has less than seven percent lead over his nearest rival.

The results of the soldier vote, it is expected, will be announced June 20. Over half a million servicemen and women marked their ballots in the election.

All four party leaders, Rt. Hon. Wm. Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, J. M. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and M. Blackmore, Social Credit leader, won their seats, although Mr. King's seat is reported as doubtful.

J. E. SMITH

of 1,193 over his nearest rival, Earl Toole, Progressive Conservative candidate.

Mr. Smith polled 10,930 votes, Mr. Toole, 9,737 votes, and Maj. A. H. Woods, C.C.F. candidate, 3,057 votes.

The Liberal victory was celebrated in Richmond Hill, home town of the new federal candidate, with a torchlight procession led by the band. Mr. Smith addressed the gathering, giving credit for his victory to those who worked for him in every part of the riding.

On the basis of the civilian vote, 118 Liberals won seats, 66 Progressive Conservatives won seats, and the C.C.F. won 25 seats. Sixty-five seats are listed by the Canadian Press as doubtful, that is, open to change as the soldier vote is counted. Those seats are listed as doubtful where

PUBLIC SCHOOLS END SOFTBALL CONTESTS

The public school softball leagues have been brought to a successful and satisfactory conclusion. Although the rainy weather interfered with some of the games, all players had an enjoyable season and it was for this purpose that the league was promoted.

In the girls' group both finalists were from the Alexander Muir school with the Stuart Scott team running a close third. Top honors for the boys went to the King George school which was met in the finals by a team from Alexander Muir.

The players as well as the coach, Mrs. Smith, of the Stuart Scott school did a wonderful job. Their school is small and they have no grade 8 pupils, yet in both leagues they made a good showing.

The spirit of sportsmanship was well exemplified by all participants and while congratulations are due the winners, all are to be commended for their sporting attitude.

VISITING NEWMARKET

A recent arrival from overseas is Cpl. Alfred Ainsworth, R.C.A.F., son-in-law of Mrs. Nelson Scott, Joseph St., Newmarket. Formerly stationed at a R.C.A.F. training station in England, he reached New York May 22 and after visiting his parents in Quebec, arrived in Newmarket Saturday. He was overseas two and a half years and has a 30-day leave before reporting. His wife is the former Mary Scott.

MILK FOR BRITAIN TAG DAY SATURDAY

Milk For Britain tag day takes place next Saturday with the arrangements in Newmarket in charge of Mrs. Elwood Nicol. Dr. A. J. McCann, minister of national war services, officially opened the Kinsmen Milk For Britain Week a few days ago in a network broadcast. "There is urgent need," he said, "for more and more milk to nourish and sustain British kiddies. This is what the Kinsmen fund for British children has undertaken to supply... as long as the need exists."

"The flow of milk from Canada to Britain during the war years has been of untold value to the lives of the children in hospitals, in nurseries, in orphanages and in the devastated areas in England, Scotland and Wales," the minister stated.

The Kinsmen Milk For Britain Fund is registered under the War Charities Act. To date more than 27 million quarts of milk have been shipped as a result of support given by the Canadian people.

NAME WM. GEER AS PRESIDENT OF LIONS CLUB

W. J. Geer was acclaimed as president of the Newmarket Lions club at the election meeting of the club Tuesday night in St. Paul's Anglican church parish hall. R. C. Morrison was acclaimed as first vice president, R. L. Pritchard as second vice president, T. F. Doyle as secretary, F. T. Courtney as treasurer, Arthur Evans as lion tamer, Alex. Eves as tail twister and James Walker as assistant, George Bender and Ross Howlett were acclaimed as directors for two years and John Meyer was elected editor of the club bulletin.

H. E. Gilroy, retiring president, paid special tribute to his executive for the co-operation he had received throughout the year. F. S. Thompson said that the work done by the retiring president "was thoroughly appreciated by the members and that the success of the club was in no small measure due to the retiring president's efforts."

Guests of club members were three returned Newmarket soldiers, Sgt. F. C. Evans, Sgt. J. H. Luesby and Cpl. Jack Williams. Cpl. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams, former residents now living in Willowdale, has been spending a few days in town.

Governs German Province, Kept Busy--Maj. T. Ewing

"Once again it has been my pleasure to receive 300 cigarettes from your association," Major T. M. Ewing writes the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers Comforts fund. "They were very much needed, too, as the movements of the troops in the past few weeks have been very rapid and in consequence it has not been possible to keep our stock of cigarettes up to the usual level. May I offer my most sincere thanks to you and the association for your kindness to me."

"As you may notice, there has been a slight change in the name of my detachment. It simply means that at last we are in Germany. I am even allowed to give you our address. At present I am in the town of Schleswig. It will be our locale for some time I think. It is a beautiful little town of about 25,000 population and the centre of the dairy and horse breeding country. We are very nicely situated on an inlet of the sea and it may even be possible to get in some sailing and fishing before our return. It is not like home though. The Canadians in this area are taking a keen interest in the coming provincial and federal election. It is too bad I can't tell you some of the points advanced in argument in favor of their own candidates. They might be very enlightening to the electors and candidates as well."

"I might say that the non-fraternization law is very difficult for the soldiers, especially after the friendship and hospitality offered in the friend-countries through which they passed to reach here. A little thought on their part reminds them of some of the things for which the German people are responsible. So I don't think the people have too much to worry about in the conduct of the troops."

"Sorry this is such a short and disconnected note, but I am rather busy at the moment trying to govern a German province and it is no easy matter. Perhaps I shall qualify here to come home and take an active part in the government of my own country. We all hope to be home soon. And I am looking forward to meeting the members of the finance committee of the camp, reports that there are sufficient funds to meet the needs of the camp. (Page 10, Col. 5)

CAPTURE OF U-BOAT TOLD BY J. H. GILES

The first U-boat to enter Newfoundland waters after the surrender of German forces in Europe was sighted and conveyed to a port by a corvette, H.M.C.S. Thorlock. Aboard the Thorlock was Stwd. J. H. Giles, son of Mrs. Affeta Giles, Newmarket. In a letter to his mother, Stwd. Giles enclosed clippings from Newfoundland papers which told the story of the U-boat's capture.

In his letter, the Newmarket sailor writes: "Well, the last trip was very exciting for the Thorlock. Maybe you heard about us being the first Canadian ship to bring a German submarine in. We had the prisoners on our ship. It was one of the biggest and oldest subs. The Victoria-ville was the other ship with us... we had the sub a half hour before she arrived... Everybody aboard was pretty proud when we got that sub. The old Thorlock has made a name for herself anyway."

The newspaper clippings Stwd. Giles enclosed describe how the Thorlock and Victoria-ville were part of a convoy escort. They received orders from shore to leave the convoy and find the submarine which in accordance to the surrender terms, had surfaced and wireless her position to shore authorities.

The U-boat was sighted from the bridge of the Thorlock early in the evening. There was no reply to the Thorlock's signals and the corvette ran alongside the submarine and put a boarding party of 11 men aboard, who sailed to the submarine, under the escort of the Thorlock and Victoria-ville, to a Newfoundland naval base.

Carter, 37 Timothy St., Newmarket, or phone 578.

FORMER PRISONERS RETURN

WO1 WM. M. VANZANT

SGT. F. C. EVANS

L. Cpl. A. G. McDONALD

Six Town Veterans Home From Abroad

Six Newmarket boys returned from overseas over the weekend. They are Sgt. F. C. Evans, son of Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. Arthur Evans, Millard Ave., L. Cpl. A. G. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McDonald, Gorham St., WO1 Wm. M. VanZant, son of Mr.

He said he gained 16 pounds in 11 days after being liberated. Asked about the Red Cross parcels were the only things that kept him alive. "We owe a debt to the Red Cross we can never repay," he said.

SGT. J. H. LUESBY

Ross VanZant, Collingwood, Pte. U. L. Gilkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gilkes, Timothy St., Sgt. J. H. Luesby, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Luesby, and Pte. W. G. Shropshire, whose wife lives on Gorham St.

The first three mentioned were prisoners of war until liberated by the advance of Allied armies. Sgt. Evans and L. Cpl. McDonald were taken prisoner when wounded in the Dieppe action. WO1 VanZant was taken prisoner when his plane was shot down over Germany two years ago. WO1 VanZant, Sgt. Luesby, Pte. Shropshire and Pte. Gilkes arrived in Halifax Thursday on the Louis Pasteur after a seven-day trip and arrived in Toronto Saturday. The other two came across on a Dutch ship, arriving a day later.

Sgt. Evans made his escape from the Germans as the men in his prison camp were being marched north to get out of reach of advancing Allied armies. With five others, he hid in a stretch of wooded country, living off the land, until the Allied forces arrived. He was sent to Brussels and then to England where, after a short leave, he was returned home.

Pte. Gilkes was three and a half years overseas. Attached to a field ambulance unit, he was with the Canadians in the Eighth Army at Ortona and was in the Italian campaign until the Canadians were transferred to north-west Europe. During the latter part of the campaign, he was transferred to a "jeep ambulance" unit which served well up to the front. At one time, he had as a patient Spr. Wallace Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Morton, Newmarket, who is at present hospitalized at Chorley Park military hospital.

Pte. Gilkes said that the Canadians in Italy were second to none in fighting ability. "The Canadians fought against the parachute troops, none of them under six feet in height, and bested them," he said. When he landed in Canada, Pte. Gilkes said, the first words he heard were: "Hello Canada!" "It was the sweetest music I've ever heard," he said.

L. Cpl. McDonald went overseas five years ago Sunday. Ever since Dieppe, he has been a prisoner of war. He hastened his liberation by escaping while being marched from one prison camp to another. "There were three of us," he said. "We hid in a barn and were fed by a German farmer. There were four Englishmen and 20 Frenchmen in the barn but the farmer only knew that the three of us were there." After being in hiding for three days, L. Cpl. McDonald was rescued by the arrival of American soldiers.

Pte. W. G. Shropshire WO1 VanZant enlisted in 1941 and went overseas the next year. As air gunner with a Canadian bombing squadron, he was taken prisoner when his plane was shot down over Germany. He was prisoner nearly two years and was liberated by the advance of the Russian armies.

Y.P.S. WELCOMES HOME PTE. GARNET TRIVETT

Pte. Garnet Trivett, one of the most popular members of the Young People's Society of the Church of the Nazarene, was given a warm welcome home by the society at its regular meeting Friday. Pte. Trivett returned home from hospital in England last Wednesday. He was seriously wounded in the fighting in Europe.

Since being away from Canada, Pte. Trivett has kept up a continual correspondence with Rev. L. E. Sparks, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. He said he was very happy to be home again and is quite optimistic regarding his future.

After the meeting, the gathering was invited to the parsonage where light refreshments were served and a short period of fellowship was enjoyed.

LIBERAL MAJORITY PARED

The civilian voters elected Liberal party candidates in larger numbers than those of either of the other two major parties. However, the Liberal party does not, at the moment, have a working majority. One hundred and twenty-three seats are needed for a working majority; the Liberal party candidates have won 118 seats. Of those seats, the Canadian Press lists 29 as being doubtful, that is, open to change as the soldier vote comes in.

The Progressive Conservative party showed a gain of 26 seats for a total of 66 seats of which 20 are listed as being doubtful. The C.C.F. gained 16 seats for a total of 26 seats of which nine are listed as doubtful. The Canadian Press lists those seats doubtful where the winning candidate has less than seven percent lead over his nearest opponent.

We doubt if the soldier vote will improve the Liberal position. The Liberal party is associated with a conscription policy which has been bitterly criticized, and at the same time, as far as soldiers abroad are concerned, has been unable to show to them to the best advantage the results of its price controls. The Liberal party suffered too a loss of prestige in the defeat of General Andrew McNaughton in Grey North. It is more likely that the soldier vote will be to the advantage of both the C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative parties.

The Liberal party won considerable favor
through its social legislation such as the Family Allowances Act and its splendid record in the war against inflation. Taxation and subsidy programs, initiated by the Liberal administration, have enabled Canada to escape the seriously inflated economy which has afflicted other nations
at war, a fact generally recognized by voters.

The Progressive Conservative party made most of its gains in Ontario where the party was able to capitalize on the momentum provided by the provincial results. The critical attitude of Ontario generally towards the government's handling of conscription was a strong factor in favor of the Progressive Conservatives. Likewise, the Progressive Conservative insistence on stronger bonds within the British Empire had a strong appeal in the province. Ontario civilian voters elected 47 Progressive Conservative candidates, a gain of 22. The Liberal party lost 19 seats. The Liberal losses would have been greater only many of those who had voted for the Progressive Conservative party in protest against the C.C.F. in the provincial elections, voted Liberal in the federal contest.

In the three prairie provinces, the Liberal party lost 11 seats. The C.C.F. gained 14 seats, the Progressive Conservative party gained one seat, and the Social Credit party gained three seats. In Saskatchewan where there is a C.C.F. government, the C.C.F. gained 11 seats and the Liberals lost seven. These results could be interpreted in two ways, either as an indication of success on the part of the C.C.F. provincial administration in Saskatchewan, or as a protest against parties which have their roots in the east and which represent, to a large extent, the domination of Ontario and Quebec over the prairie provinces.

In British Columbia, the Progressive Conservative party gained two seats and the C.C.F. gained three seats. The Liberal party lost six seats.
Quebec province offered a surprise in the defeat of Bloc Populaire candidates. The Bloc was considered by many political analysts to be the greatest threat to the Liberal party but only two Bloc candidates were elected. The province elected the same number of Liberal candidates, 45, but eight Independent Liberals and seven Independents were elected. The Liberal party can count to a large extent on their support. The Liberal party gained in the Maritimes to the extent of two seats.

Generally speaking, the vote was regional. In the east, the Liberals showed strongly but lagged in the west. The Progressive Conservative gains were concentrated in Ontario to a large extent.
In the west, the vote was against the Liberals and mostly in favor of the C.C.F. The results show that no one party could claim a national appeal.
This is to the disadvantage of Canada in the sense that it increases the feeling of regionalism which has been one of the strongest obstacles in the way of national unity.

The election result as it stands now, however,
offers this one advantage: the competition between the government party and the opposition in parliament will be heightened. As long as one party was secure in a large majority, parliament suffered in that the opposition was powerless to force an issue. With the Liberal majority considerably reduced, the opposition will be able to better serve its purpose as the censor and critic of government actions to the ultimate advantage of the nation.

In Passing

The painting of the Congregational-Christian and St. John's church steeples excited considerable comment from sidewalk superintendents.
All were unanimous, however, in that they prefer to do their watching from street level and no higher.

The Newmarket Horticultural Society continues its good work in beautifying the town. The society is arranging now for the decoration of public buildings by means of window boxes and plots, as well as beautifying the entrance to the town. The society deserves much credit for its endeavors.

First it was dogs. Now it is cats. A householder of our acquaintance was awakened from a sound sleep the other night by suspicious noises in the cellar. Investigating, he found a pair of tom cats making themselves comfortable in the basement.

Early in July, the community recreation program for school children sponsored by the Newmarket Lions club, will be initiated under the capable direction of Vice-Principal Fred L. Hall.
The program aims at giving children the best in organized sports and play. It is a project that is worthy of every support from the citizens. On its success will depend the possibilities of a community program in the future that will embrace every age and which will provide a sound foundation for community fellowship.

THE COMMON ROUND THE YEAR BETWEEN

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

In some ways it does not seem possible that a year has passed since that morning in June of 1944 when all our world of opening buds and perfume and bird song was overlaid with war's weird descent.

Our hearts, which had felt the surge of new life and hope and joy in the beauty of nature, which is spring's contribution to our happiness, became in a moment reservoirs of fear and anxiety and I do not think that many of us began that day without a prayer for the gallant lads who were risking their all that we might have the right to live and enjoy and work and pray.

And what a year it has been!
If we have not learned many lessons from it, then we are of all peoples the most stupid and selfish.

We should have learned—but have we—to take ourselves out of the cotton wool of complacency in which we were wont to wrap ourselves and let the rest of the world go by.

We should have learned—and again, have we—that beyond the boundaries of our great dominion are people like ourselves—more so than we used to realize—with the same hopes and fears, but NOW lacking our comforts, our opportunities and our resources, and realize that we have a great responsibility in regard to them.

We should have learned—have we—that Wendell Willkie's "One World," makes us all neighbors and a greater one than Wendell Willkie said "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," which makes it pretty evident that SAYING we love them is not enough, we have to work at it.

We have learned that right,
when properly roused and implemented by all the resources that rightful indignation can muster, will always in the end, triumph over might, for what did Germany's years of preparation avail her against the rest of the world, roused by the battle cry of freedom, to do in a few short years what she had taken a quarter of a century to accomplish.

D-day showed us that a righteous cause, a love of home and country and leaders imbued with the urge to fight the dragon of evil, can turn the boys from our farms, our offices and our factories—boys with a love of home—into a disciplined fighting machine which few can equal and none surpass.

We honor them and those who,
with sore hearts, let them go, and we hope and pray that no disillusionment may mar their homecoming, that a real life of opportunity and freedom from fear and want may be theirs, in the land they so gallantly fought for.

The Talagoos II team went to Orillia on Tuesday to play a re-boys are one goal ahead on the

Lest We Forget

Under this heading, it is proposed to discuss the problems facing the returning serviceman and how best they may be solved through the help of those at home.

The Editor, The Era and Express: While reading your issue of May 17, I noticed an item, Lest We Forget, which interested me very much. The writer went all out for the veterans returning from overseas. He mentioned that a prominent Newmarket citizen had suggested a memorial in the form of a municipal building. I, for one, can't see anything worthwhile for the veteran unless part of this building was allotted to the veterans to do with as they please.

I say: build a municipal memorial building but build it large enough so the veterans can have part of it to hold their dances and euchres and bingo, as well as their monthly meetings.

I also read another article in the issue of June 7, signed by Average Man. He backs the statements made by the first writer and then goes on to draw the churches into the picture. I am aware that the church has a great responsibility. They have had it for a long time. I do not think, however, that the man returning from overseas are going to think too much of spiritual things. Their first thoughts will be directed towards finding employment and providing security for themselves and their families.

After they have settled, no doubt,
their minds will be drawn towards the church.

What they really need, is something to take their minds from what they went through,
which will be done, I am convinced, if the government does its part, and the public does not shirk its duty. If the public does forget the debt it owes, then the government will forget and the results will be the same as after the last war.

I would like to inform the writer who signed himself Average Man that the returned man of this war will not stand in breadlines or sell pencils because they have learned a great deal of both the spiritual and worldly way of life. I hope the public wakes up to the fact that if the returned man does not get a square deal, the responsibility will be that of every citizen in Canada.

THE PATHFINDER

A GUIDE TO CAREERS

By H. J. RUSSELL, M.R.S.T.

ARTICLE SIX

This article is about citizens in the news. Valuable current vocational information may be clipped and filed from the daily and weekly newspapers and from certain magazines, which often carry promotional and achievement announcements concerning the careers of citizens.

The news paragraphs, photographs, editorials and special articles stimulate interest and furnish class discussion material which can be developed from such basic questions as:

1. What education did this man (or woman) have?

2. What special difficulties had to be overcome in the course of this career?

3. What outstanding services were rendered to the community?

4. Were the financial rewards reasonably satisfactory?

5. What personal qualities or talents were necessary?

All large newspapers have ready prepared accounts of the lives of men and women of note,
to be published when they die.
Such accounts are called obituary notices or reports and often they contain accounts of interesting career incidents.

The story goes that Mark Twain, hearing that he had been announced as dead, communicated with the editor to say that this was a gross exaggeration.

Many useful careers are unspectacular, and the passing of many men and women is without publicity, but all of them make their necessary contribution to the sum of human welfare.
Biography, too, provides another useful and inspiring source of information for those who are looking for some ideas and examples that will start them on the way to a successful career.

There are many cases on record of men and women who have come across books about the lives of people who have made their mark, and have been encouraged, as a consequence, to undertake studies in preparation for the same kind of work.

The next time you are in a public or school or college library look for the biographical section, and take out a book about the life and achievement of some person of note. You will find in most cases that such people had an enthusiasm and a zeal which never failed once they had found out what they wanted most to do.

Don't drift. Do some planning —planning based upon observation and thought. Notice what people are doing—you will see apparent failures as well as successes. Don't let popular activities absorb all of your time.
Save some of your spare time for self-development. I wasted time,

Maple Artificial Unit Is Started At Breeders' Meet

To climax some six months' arduous work on the part of the officers and directors of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association, about 200 members, Holstein breeders and other interested individuals, gathered at Maple on the evening of Tuesday, June 3, for the inauguration meeting on the property purchased by the club which is to carry on artificial insemination program. After calling the meeting to order and outlining the history of the project to date, President G. Wilfred Keffer of Maple asked Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn of Newmarket to act as master of ceremonies for the evening. Mr. Cockburn paid tribute to Mr. Keffer as the man who had a vision and has devoted nearly half his time to the promotion of this new enterprise.

After introducing the directors, G. W. Keffer, Maple; Norman Porter, Richmond Hill; R. J. Darlington, Maple; Fraser Gee, Gormley; Russell Rowntree, Woodbridge, and secretary treasurer, J. M. McDonald, of Maple, Mr. Cockburn called on W. R. Reek, deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario, to present to the president the charter of incorporation on behalf of the province. Mr. Reek complimented the group on the work which they had undertaken on their own on a self-supporting basis. He felt that the type of organization set up would prove very successful and the quality and breeding of the bulls being used should make for marked herd improvement in the community to be served by the association. He would be pleased to have the officials of his department give all the time at their disposal to assist the club in its undertaking, he said.

W. P. Watson, assistant director of the Ontario livestock branch, who, from experience gained in the experimental unit in Leeds county and his study of units in Wisconsin, had given invaluable assistance to the board in organizing this group, was called on to introduce C. R. Reeds, formerly of Waterloo, who has been engaged by the association as technician. Mr. Reeds, who has had three years experience in Waterloo county, bespoke the co-operation of the members in carrying out the project, assuring all that he was anxious to make the venture the success everyone hoped for.

The four bulls purchased include a four-year-old double grandson of Montvic Rag Apple Netherland, purchased from Lloyd Turner of Stouffville, and three bulls sired by Lonelm Texal Fayne (still in service for Geo. C. Jackson at 14 years of age) and out of dams sired by Montvic Rag Apple Baron 2nd XX. These were purchased from S. B. Watson of Agincourt, W. J. McEvoy of Glanford Station and a yearling from the partnership of Alex. Forrest and Gordon Watson of Maple. The two older Texal Fayne bulls had previously been inspected by the gathering in the newly remodelled bull barn which has two box stalls, two single stalls with safety aisles on each side of them and a breeding pen.

As the Turner bull was returning from being photographed, C. D. Graham, director of agricultural representatives branch and formerly director of extension for the Canadian Holstein Friesian Association, was called on to discuss the breeding of this bull, Bethany Rag Apple Joe. Gordon Watson then brought in Lonelm Texal Anthony, the yearling three-quarter brother of Lonelm Texal Jiggs and Lonelm Texal Ideal. Geo. C. Jackson, master breeder of Maple, was asked to discuss the breeding behind these three bulls which he had raised.

Brief congratulations were extended to the club by Prof. R. G. Knox, head of the animal husbandry department of O.A.C. and L. E. O'Neill, director of the Ontario livestock branch, and W. Moynihan of the health of animals branch, outlined the co-operation his staff is prepared to give so that service from these sires might be available to accredited and listed herds in the radius of ten miles covered by the association. Over 100 members have already signed up nearly 1,200 cows.

To get the visitors there by 7:30 p.m., the meeting opened with a draw for one free service which was won by F. R. Chapman of Weston. Everyone present was given extended pedigrees of each of the bulls for future reference. In closing the meeting, Mr. Cockburn said he hoped the members would remember the advice given them to keep heifers from their best cows and that to select these dams he hoped a considerable number would take up cow testing. For those not able to go on R.O.P. he would be pleased to organize a cowtesting service. It would be interesting to compare records of milk and fat of the members present cows and their daughters and granddaughters as the years go by, he said.

ATTEND BROWNIE PARADE

A number of Brownies of the 67th Salvation Army Brownie Pack, Newmarket, attended the annual united divine service parade in Toronto on Sunday morning.

The different Salvation Army patrols and packs of Guides, Scouts, Brownies and Cubs assembled in Ramsden Park at 10 o'clock for inspection. Commissioner Benjamin Orames, Brig. Alfred Keith, T.Y.P.S., Lieut. Rufus Spooner, divisional commander of the Toronto division, Major Reg. Gage, D.Y.P.S., Mrs. Reg. Gage, Major Gertrude Bloss, territorial life-saving Guide organizer, and Major Percy Alder, territorial life-saving Scout organizer, reviewed the units.

The parade proceeded south on Yonge St. to the Masonic Temple with the Earlscourt Salvation Army band leading, followed by the Guides, Brownies, Cubs and Scouts. Com. Orames took the salute at the Army's girls' home on Yonge St.

As the Newmarket Brownies were from an outside point, they headed the Brownies in the march.

During the divine service in the Masonic Temple, Brigadier Alfred Keith led in the responsive scripture reading. A long service badge was awarded to Brigadier Keith during the service. Major Reg. Gage led in the opening prayer and Major Gertrude Bloss pronounced the benediction.

Com. Benjamin Orames gave a helpful message. The service closed with God Save the King. Those attending from Newmarket were Brownies June Pemberton, Shirley Mills, Ruth Glenn, Barbara Watt, Wilma Robinson, Joan Robinson, Norma Burling, Jean King, Betty Lou Knowles, Barbara Kirbyson and Muriel Simmerson. Brown Owl Zilpah Lavender and Betty Heaney and Audrey Trumble, helpers, also attended.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Others May Die If Brakes Poor, Magistrate

"You might just as well go out with a gun to shoot someone with as to go out driving a car with faulty brakes," Magistrate W. E. McIlveen said in criticism of two motorists who appeared in magistrate's court here on Friday to answer charges of having inefficient brakes on their cars. "You might think it is alright, but if some emergency arises your carelessness in this regard might be the cause of someone losing his life." The two defendants were Douglas Switzer, R. R. 1, Beaton, and Clarence E. Robinson, R. R. 2, Bolton, and each was fined $10 and costs. County Constable Ronald Watt examined the brakes of the defendants' cars in the vicinity of Schomberg.

Although he denied that his driving was the cause of an accident on Yonge St. near the intersection of Huron St., Magistrate McIlveen found Zachariah Longhurst, Conway Ave., Toronto, guilty on a charge of careless driving and fined him $10 and costs of $8. An alternative of ten days in jail was allowed. The defendant chose to pay the fine.

According to Provincial Constable William A. Melbourne, he had been patrolling Yonge St. on May 27 at about 8 p.m. when he noticed the defendant's car attempting to pass a car driven by Christopher Price. In attempting to pass, the defendant's car bumped the latter's car and forced it onto the shoulder of the 20-foot road, he said. The officer stated that most of the damage done was to the accused's car.

Mr. Price, Keele St. west, Toronto, told his worship that he had been driving on his own side of the road when accused's car, in attempting to pass, cut short and collided with the front of his car. He stated that the damage to his car amounted to about five or six dollars.

Accused denied that he was the cause of the accident and claimed that Mr. Price was a nervous driver and drove into his car.

"How was his bumper bent?" asked his worship.

"It was bent out," replied the accused.

"If he bumped into you it would have been bent back instead of pulled out," commented Magistrate McIlveen.

Because he failed to have his driver's license with him when asked by Constable Watt to produce it, Douglas Eves, R. R. 1, Newmarket, was fined $1 and costs. On a second charge, that of entering a stop street, he was also fined $3 and costs.

Constable Watt testified that on May 26 he was checking brakes on Huron St. when he noticed the defendant's car approach, turn and then drive back along the route it came. He immediately gave chase but the accused failed to stop his car when signalled to, passed through a stop street and continued for some distance before coming to a stop, he said. When he asked to see his driver's license accused did not have it with him, the officer said.

Other cases disposed of by Magistrate McIlveen were: Joseph Resnick, Toronto, fined $15 and costs on a charge of exceeding the speed limit on Yonge St.; White Linen Supply Co., Toronto, fined $2 and costs for illegal parking charges in Newmarket; Murdoch Ferguson and Charles W. Harrop, both of Toronto, and Ronald H. Willbee, Zephyr, each James O'Donnell, who was ill a little over a week, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Clark, Barrie, where he has been making his home for the past two or three months, on Saturday. He was in his 87th year.

Mr. O'Donnell was a son of the late Alice Curry and John O'Donnell of Gifford. His grandfather, Richard O'Donnell, came to Canada from Ireland in 1808 while a British soldier and was stationed at Niagara Falls, then moved to Penetang. He settled on a farm at Gifford in 1875 and later moved to the 12th line of West Gwillimbury.

Mr. O'Donnell farmed at West Gwillimbury until 1908, when he moved to north Yonge St. He retired in 1922 and moved to Newmarket, where he has made his home until going to stay with his daughter at Barrie. His wife, the former Anna Murphy of Barrie, died 47 years ago. He was a member of the Roman Catholic church.

A great horseman in his younger days, Mr. O'Donnell raised horses as a hobby while in West Gwillimbury. He was a strong Liberal and great admirer of Sir Wm. Mulock and W. L. Mackenzie King. He was the last surviving member of a family of eight.

One son, Joseph O'Donnell, Malton, formerly of Newmarket, and three daughters, Mrs. J. B. Clark (Evelyn), Barrie, Mrs. Joseph Hall (May), Phelpsston, and Mrs. George Moore (Irene), Winnipeg, Man., survive.

feeding efficiency

THERE IS NO WASTE THE SHUR-GAIN WAY

BETTER HOGS TO MARKET IN SHORTER TIME

There is a notable shortage of meat on the domestic market — and this shortage is in very grave danger of increasing, due to the tremendous needs of liberated European countries. Canadian farmers are being called upon to increase their production, particularly of pork and bacon, so that the needs of these war-torn countries may be met, to a degree at least.

Canadian bacon is wanted, both in Britain and in the rest of Europe, and the need will be maintained for many months to come. Now, when every pound of pork must be produced, at the lowest possible cost, you must consider the efficiency of your hog feeding program. Efficient feeding means that more of your hogs farrowed reach market, at the proper weights, and in the shortest feeding period.

You can increase the efficiency of your feeding and increase your resulting profits too, by raising your hogs on a balanced ration, which contains in the correct proportions, the required proteins, minerals and vitamins. Because it is a balanced ration, SHUR-GAIN 16% HOG GROWER eliminates waste and every pound you feed is utilized by your hogs. Balanced feeding, the SHUR-GAIN WAY means faster growth, lower feeding costs and improved grading results.

"Here comes our cheque Mummy!"

All over Canada, in cities, towns, villages and on farms, hundreds of thousands of men and women watch for the postman to bring dependents' allowance cheques as other people look for pay-day. They are people of all ages whose breadwinners are away on active service. They include returned men not yet back in civil life.

And soon there will be hundreds of thousands more back from the war. They will receive cheques to help them buy civilian clothes, to go to college, to get technical or vocational training, to start in business for themselves, or to set up as farmers or fishermen.

The banks have to be prepared to cash all official cheques for these and a dozen other purposes—and to do so anywhere in Canada without charge. In fact, the banks supply Canada with the nationwide machinery to facilitate a grateful country's plans for restoring service men and women to civilian life.

This is a tremendous task. It will entail a vast amount of bookkeeping. But you can be sure that your banks will take it in their stride without impairing regular banking service.

The June meeting of the Union Street Women's Institute was held on Thursday, June 7, with a good attendance.
The meeting was opened with the Institute ode, followed by the creed. Roll-call was answered by naming Your Favorite Salad. Five dollars was sent to the sugar fund. Cards of thanks were received from J. Wayne, Glaister Graves and Malcolm Love for cigarettes they received.
Mrs. F. Rose was appointed delegate to the convention in Newmarket. The secretary, Miss Violet Micks, gave the yearly report of the Institute work. A piano selection was given by Miss Beth King.
A paper on home economics was given by Mrs. E. Burgess. A demonstration on health and home nursing by Mrs. L. Johnston and Mrs. Swanson proved interesting. Current events were given by Mrs. Harold Bray. Mrs. Callendar moved a vote of thanks to the hostess, Mrs. Swanson.

W.I. District Annual Has Sessions At Zephyr

(From Orillia Packet and Times, June 7.)

The Women's Institutes of North Ontario had good sessions at the District Annual held at Zephyr on Tuesday. All the branches were well represented and the reports showed they were in a healthy state. Mrs. George Dukelow, of Beaverton, was in the chair and Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, of Zephyr, was secretary.

In the morning reports were heard from the president and the secretary and the nominating committee. The reports of the branch secretaries were received, there was an exhibit of made-over clothing and Mrs. F. Walden, of the department, spoke on Home Economics.

In the afternoon Mrs. Carl Myers welcomed the delegates and Mrs. Johnston, of Blackwater, replied. Mrs. C. Dudenhoffer, the district delegate, made her report.

Miss Collins, from the department at Toronto, explained the co-operative program for this year. She told something of the recent visit of Miss Christmas, who was in Canada from the old country. Miss Christmas had been thrilled with her visit to Stoney Creek, Ont., where the Women's Institutes began. She, like all the members in the old land, looked upon the branch there as the Mother Institute. There are 350,000 members of the Institute in Britain, with 900 branches in Scotland, where they are known as the Rurals.

At the session of the Institute held at Stoney Creek to meet Miss Christmas there were nine of the original members present, one 97 years of age. She was still bright, alert, charmingly dressed and a good conversationalist.

Miss Christmas had found difficulty getting her outfit to visit Canada. She was allowed only 48 points to obtain clothing for a year, and the dress she got before sailing took 18 points and cost her $80. It was a coat and skirt with a blouse. She brought a felt hat, but when she landed in New York and it was 90 in the shade she saw a straw hat which appealed very much to her. When she arrived in Ontario it was raining and rained often. This, however, was much like her native air. She was like an ambassador to Canada and created an attitude of welcome to the British brides.

Miss Collins had a lovely visit with Miss Christmas at Niagara Falls. It was a day off duty. They had a chicken dinner. Niagara was famous for its dinners, and Miss Christmas was pleased to get some chicken. The chicken was fried, and she had never had fried chicken before. Miss Christmas then went on to the west.

The first women of the Institute were women of vision, and it would be well for the women of today to seek to keep a high standard and look ahead. After V-E Day there was a temptation to sag after the superhuman effort made to maintain hard won liberties. After the war was peace. But care should be taken that selfishness should not bring divisions. There were great public problems of a national and international character. The great struggle had awakened interest in the world in general.

There were such large numbers of orphaned children to care for. The occupied countries had suffered so terribly. Canada had never been occupied. Germans were not walking round the streets or in the homes. There was need of help and aid for these destitute ones. In Britain the women were receiving four tons of wool a month to knit for Europe.

There would be a great responsibility put on the women of Canada. Problems and schemes would have to be studied and solved. There would be electrification, housing, aviation, irrigation, the women would have to build up character in the rising generation.
In Britain the Institute women had not liked the housing plans and they offered prizes for better plans. Five hundred or 600 architects submitted plans and suggestions. The best of these were submitted to the government.

Miss Collins explained the proposed program for the year's work, and meetings to discuss health will be held in the district.

Mrs. N. J. White, of Brooklyn, the federation representative, brought greetings from the provincial board. She had been one of a group to visit the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto. They found a great need for a new building, more modern. Six million dollars was required and $3,000,000 was in sight. The present building had been built in 1875. In 1881 John Ross Robertson had lost a child, and this had caused him to devote his whole life to the welfare of the children. He had done great things, and eventually his estate will go to the Hospital for Sick Children.

In the hospital all the ration for sugar and butter had been determined by the hospital staff. Child specialists were sent out to the rest of the province. The new building would be 18 stories high. It was found easier to go up and down an elevator than to have the departments scattered over a large floor space.

Two hundred and fifty thousand pounds of jam had been sent overseas. Flowers were supplied for soldiers' hospitals. The new song books, which had cost $1,000 to prepare, would soon be out, and music for all the songs. There would be blank sheets in the book so that other songs could be pasted or written in.

The Institute represented homemakers and it was their responsibility to bring up the future citizens to be worthy of victory which had been won.

The officers elected were: president, Mrs. George Dukelow, Beaverton; first vice-pres., Mrs. Norman Stone, Gamebridge; second vice-pres., Mrs. Don Monro, Gamebridge; third vice-pres., Mrs. Riseborough, Sandford; fourth vice-pres., Mrs. David Speedie, Brechin; sec., Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Zephyr; federation representative, Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Zephyr; alternate, Mrs. W. H. Burns, Beaverton; district delegate, Mrs. C. Dudenhoffer, Gamebridge.

Committees: citizenship, Mrs. C. Dudenhoffer; social welfare, Mrs. M. Hannington, Udney; historical, Mrs. Johnston, Blackwater; economics, Mrs. A. Gillespie, Beaverton; publicity, Mrs. W. H. Burns; war work, Mrs. Ray Brethour, Sunderland; auditors, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rynard, Zephyr; convener of nominating committee, Mrs. D. W. Walls, Beaverton; resolutions, Mrs. R. P. Rillance, R. R. 2, Beaverton; representatives on federation of agriculture, Mrs. Barbour, of Udney, and Mrs. Burns.

The District Annual in 1946 will be held at Gamebridge.

The luncheon at noon and tea at the close of the afternoon were served by the ladies of the church.

Mrs. Burns expressed thanks for the hospitality, the halls, the meals, to the speakers, the soloists and those who brought reports.

HOPE

There will be no Sunday-school next Sunday as Rev. Mr. Anderson will conduct the church service at 9.45 a.m. Rev. Hugh Shannon is taking the anniversary services at Piston.

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Barker last Wednesday with a fairly good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Potts family were supper guests and Mrs. L. Mount on Sunday. Little Myrna Micks is in after having her collar broken.

Mrs. Oscar Stickwood is improving after her recent illness. Miss Elsie Gilbert, Toronto, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pegg. Mr. and Mrs. Meek, Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Barker.
Quite a number of the young people attended the Junior Farmers' dance and picnic at Musselman's Lake on Friday. Janeen Allison spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Evans. Mrs. Wilmot and Mrs. McNeen left for a visit to the west recently.
Mr. Ivan Breen visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Breen, over the weekend.
The Hobby club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Pegg, Sharon, on June 19.

Will these little pigs go to market?

Canadian farmers deserve the utmost credit for quadrupling this country's wartime hog production. A goodly share of this export market should be held—even in the face of post-war competition from Denmark where hog numbers are believed to be almost normal again.

The test, say the experts, will be on quality. The normal British taste is not for fat hogs. Lean Yorkshires are sure to get preference. Rotation of the farrow pen will become increasingly important. And the successful hog raiser will make greater use of his agricultural college and experimental stations from which thoroughly up-to-date, practical advice can be had for the asking.

Another valuable service, that of money, is offered by The Bank of Toronto. Our branch managers now, as during the past 90 years, are both attentive listeners and experienced advisers—genuinely anxious to aid responsible farmers who want to make real progress during post-war years.

UPPER-10 Clothes PRESENT...

C. R. INSLEY,
NEWMARKET, ONT.

Made to Measure "RUSH" SERVICE

DEAR FRIENDS, FOR EX-SERVICEMEN

As a returned serviceman we should like to do something special for you. We feel it is your due.

UPPER-10 Clothes, one of the finest tailoring houses in Canada, has suspended its Made-to-Measure service for the civilian trade and decided for the time being to make clothes for returned men ONLY.

There is still an acute shortage of cloths. It must last for several months yet, but we have made special arrangements through UPPER-10 Clothes to secure the necessary materials and to establish a SPECIAL RUSH MADE-TO-MEASURE DELIVERY SERVICE for ex-servicemen.

We are not looking for business at this moment, but the time will come when once again we shall be doing that very thing and, by being of service to you now and helping you back to "civvies", we hope to win your lasting friendship and esteem.

The service must be confined solely to ex-servicemen and we can only make one of each type of garment for each customer. We hope by this means to make available cloths go far enough, and if you will come in within the next day or two we shall be pleased to show you the selection we have.

Congratulating you on your return, thanking you for a grand job well done, and wishing you success in all you may undertake in the future.

Yours very truly,

Cliff Insley

With the lifting of restrictions on the manufacture of many consumer and commercial products, Minister of Finance Halsey said:—"Consumers must not expect an immediate increase in the available supply of these commodities." And he added, "an increase in civilian goods will depend upon the time which manufacturers will require to secure the necessary skilled labour and materials without interfering with continuing war requirements."

Our ability to instal telephones depends not on instruments alone, but also in many cases on obtaining wire, cable and exchange equipment. Even when we can secure necessary manpower and materials, it will take time—it might be months—to instal all the apparatus necessary to serve our waiting applicants.
We shall lose no time, you may be sure.
We are grateful for the patience and understanding of so many who have had to wait so long for telephone service.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Bob Benville, ye olde mariner, having served his stretch with the sailor lads, is now back on civvy street and at work at Office Specialty. His return should start the sports wheels in Newmarket turning a bit faster. One of Ontario's best cyclists at the time of his enlistment, Bob stored his wheel with Jack Offord when he went away. He has it out now and the 18-pound chrome racer is as good as new. He is doing a bit of cycling to get back into condition and come fall may be able to get a club going. When he left he had just organized a club in Newmarket and the sweaters are still in moth balls. Some of you youngsters interested in cycling should contact Bob and get him to get started. Such fellows as Ed Mosley, Bill Denne, Norm Foster and others will doubtless want to get back into the game on their return from overseas.

Charlie Scott, Mount Albert-Zephyr athlete at tennis, softball and hockey, has graduated with honors from Toronto normal school and has accepted the principalship of Clarkson public school near Oakville. Charlie has started in a new phase of employment at an age when most would hesitate to start but he has done well and deserves a hand for his energy in carrying out his ambitions.

Back from overseas and at present in Bradford is Baldy Stoddart, who 20 years ago was playing some fine lacrosse for Bradford and Toronto St. Simons. Baldy has served in the army since 1940 and has been in England and Italy with the postal corps. We well recall an incident that took place in the early 20's which involved the husky Stoddart. The Bradford boy was a sturdy player and asked for and gave no quarter. In a juvenile play-off game with Aurora, he made a burst down the field, outdistanced all with the ball and bore in on the Aurora goal with only George "Curly" Fleury to bar the way. "Curly", who was playing point, took a glance at the situation and met Baldy head-on. In the clash Stoddart accidentally received a nasty gash in the mouth which left a scar for life and incensed the Bradford fans, with the result the Aurora team made a bee-line for the judge's stand in the fair grounds and like the Arabs, silently folded their tents and left town. What might have been a serious donnybrook was narrowly averted by cooler heads in the crowd but it was a hectic few minutes for all concerned.

Jack Dyte, one of the best all-round athletes ever to come out of Barrie and well known locally for his hockey and softball prowess, has been traded by Eddie Shore of Buffalo to St. Louis Flyers. Dyte and another player were traded for goalie Les Franks, ex-Detroit Red Wings and Nakina Smith. Dyte thus is reunited with Barrie's Hap Emms who coaches St. Louis. Meanwhile he is keeping in shape acting as catcher for Wes Perry, ex-Aurora softball hurler.

Nakina Smith will be vividly remembered by Newmarket hockey followers. He was a member of that Sudbury Wolves junior team of 1933 which gave the Redmen such a battle for the right to meet Montreal. Smith, despite his great junior hockey, never reached the form expected of him, a trait many of the juniors of that year had as the records show.

Lefty Wilson, the navy net-minder, has been secured as forecast by the Boston Red Sox and the talkative one will do his first base act for Rianoke in the Piedmont league. "Lefty" will be headed for higher company. He is not the first Canadian to join the Boston chain. Lefty Judd of Ingersoll was the original Canuck to break the ice and he went well in the big leagues for several seasons. This year he has been traded to Pittsburgh Pirates by the Sox.

Art Jackson of Toronto Maple Leafs is some pumpkins as a softballer and is currently leading the Dentonia Park senior league in hitting this year besides doing well afield. Another Maple Leaf in action is defenceman Elwyn Morris who is performing for Daltons in the Ki-Y league with elan and eclat.

Unionville A.C., according to all reports and we get it first hand, is not doing too well in the Dentonia circuit. With the exception of Vic Meharg, the Markham township boys have not shown very much afield or at the plate. As a means of strengthening them they have been permitted to sign "Cy" Lynch, a veteran Toronto hurler of renown, and Sammy Sward, who will be better remembered for his football exploits with Ottawa Roughriders and Toronto Balmy Beach.

John Stuart has invaded the American racing world this month. His good steeplechasers, Black Ned, Rice Cake and Fourth Of July (that one ought to draw the suckers), have all left for Belmont, Saratoga and other northern tracks. Joe McCulloch, the ace rider of jumpers, is in charge of the trio and Mr. Stuart will doubtless take time out from business to have a gander at them in action.

Winners in the Ontario political field from the sports world include: Cpl. Stan Dye, who won Brantford City for the P.C.'s. Cpl. Dye is president of the Brantford softball league and is a golf club maker by trade. In Hamilton Russell Kelley, past president of the O.A.L.A. and backer of Hamilton lacrosse teams, made the grade. In our adjoining riding to the east Major Tiger Welsh, who played ball and was associated with Sunderland baseball as well as being on the O.A.B.A. executive, made the grade handily. Les Blackwell, the attorney general, coached the Toronto Varsity Orphans to an O.R.F.U. championship and also coached U. of T. in the inter-collegiate field. George Dunbar of Ottawa is one of Ontario's best known bowlers and a few years ago was a member of the foursome which brought Canada the world's bowling championship.

To defeat went Lionel Conacher, better known as "the big train" and probably the greatest all-round athlete in Canadian history. Big Connie served also as chairman of the Ontario Athletic Commission. J. J. Kehoe, ex-Aurora hardballer, lost his C.C.F. seat in Northern Ontario. Art Badley, ex-O.H.A. hockey executive, lost out for the Liberals in South Wellington and Bob Garden, one of Canada's best five-pin bowlers, lost out in Toronto Beaches for the C.C.F. These were the better known sports figures entered and we have doubtless missed some.

Charlie Ryan has his Roselawn team percolating at a boil with the result the former Richmond Hill club now leads the Wanless Park circuit. Teddy Bennett, veteran Hill softballer, is reserve hurler and plays the outfield. He is still up to his old tricks, bashing out a lusty four-ply smash in recent encounter. Old man time apparently just can't catch up with Teddy.

Nels Findlay, the Thornhill hotel owner who has starred for many years with the Hill-Billies, is also turning in some fancy dudos for the Ryan clan and is the circuit's stop-them-cold relief hurler. A newcomer named Ken Darling, along with Bill Bowen of Langstaff, does most of the mushball tossing. Jim Harrison, Johnny Crewson and Art Crean are other members of the team we haven't named previously.

Jimmy Nell, who played both hockey and softball for 13X Bombers R.C.A.F. at Camp Borden, is another new addition. The team received a serious loss as did North York bowling circles with the death last week of the sponsor, E. T. Stephens, of Richmond Hill. Mr. Stephens won his share of lawn bowling prizes in his day and was the father of PO Bruce Stephens, who a few years ago played nice junior hockey for Aurora. His funeral was widely attended by North Yorkers.

Allistair Cameron will head the cross-country runners from Newmarket camp in quest of the M.D. 2 cross-country honors won last year by the now defunct Brampton basic training centre. Cameron has improved greatly in a year's time under the guidance of Lieut. Bert Life and as we all know, he now ranks with the best of Canada's distance runners. In a recent meet at Newmarket in which 1,000 men (by actual

WON'T BE LONG NOW, SOLDIER WRITES HOME

"Have just finished a very pleasant 11-day leave in the United Kingdom but am back in Holland," Lorne McCordick writes in a thank-you note to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "England seems much the same as when I left it a year and a half ago. It certainly was an agreeable change to be in a country where you could talk to the people in their own language. Well, most of us will be home in a few months and we can thank you personally for all you have done for us in the past."

"Many thanks to the Vets again for cigarettes you and others like you have kept me well supplied with since I left Canada," Lieut. Alan Cane writes the Veterans. "Now the show is over here and before many months are over most of us should be home. Then I hope to be able to tell you in person how much I have appreciated your many parcels. It seems hard to believe that the shooting is over. Now it is a case of getting out of here before they import too much blanco, etc."

"I wish to thank the Newmarket Veterans' Association for the carton of gum I received just before coming on leave," Sgt. A. V. Elphinstone writes the Veterans. "It was very nice to get. It is quite common over here now when the children see an American or Canadian they run up to them and say 'Any gum, chum?'"

"I am spending my leave at the Isle of Man, but sorry to say the nice warm weather we were having over a month ago is gone. It has been bitter cold and snowing, just like our March at home. However, I am having a good rest and hope my next leave will be spent in Newmarket."

"The war news sure looks well and I am hoping to hear the good news that our Newmarket boys that were P.O.W. have been released along with others."

"Well the war is over in Europe but now the question is when do we get home," Cfn. R. E. K. Miller writes in a letter of appreciation to the Veterans. "It rather looks as if it is going to be some time for some of us. The four and five year men have started to go back but there is still work to do on the continent and as you know from the last war it has to be done before some of us can return."

"I am at present working in the same shop as Cpl. Evans," Cfn. Stewart Baker writes the Veterans. "England at this time of the year is beautiful and really nice weather. I hope to thank you by words soon."

Cards and notes of appreciation have also been received by the Veterans from Pte. Allan Ferguson, Pte. B. Callaghan, Malcolm Love, Cpl. J. S. Codlin, LAW Sarah Jones and Capt. Kenneth Mawson.

Churches Unite To Bring Message To More People

At a meeting of the Newmarket Ministerial Association on Monday, held in the Rectory of St. Paul's Anglican church, it was decided that as a combined effort of the churches of Newmarket, a Christian crusade be held during dates yet to be specified in the spring of 1948.

The purpose of this campaign is to present the message of the church through an inter-denominational group and make a greater effort to reach those who are not yet affiliated with church activity. In preparation for this, it was decided to sponsor an inter-denominational meeting of Christians once a month, the meetings to commence in the fall.

The association further agreed to commence a series of open-air meetings at the corner of Botsford and Main Sts. with the intention of reaching men and women with the church's message. The meetings will be held on Saturday evenings, 8.30 to 9.30, commencing June 23. The facilities of the Newmarket Memorial broadcast were offered to assist in this work.

As this was the last meeting of the Ministerial Association to be held during the ministry of Rev. G. H. Johnson, D.D., in the Newmarket parish, an expression of appreciation for his "fine spirit of co-operation and leadership" was voiced by the other members present.

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT

Leonard Simmons Heads York Lions Ball League

Leonard Simmons, Aurora, was named president of the York Lions baseball league for 1945, with Bill Holloway of Aurora as secretary, following a meeting of representatives of the various municipalities interested. The league is the outgrowth of last year's district baseball group and there are 13 teams entered this season.

A juvenile league, with boys up to 19 on May 1, playing, finds teams entered from Richmond Hill, Stouffville, Milliken, Markham, Aurora, Unionville and Newmarket. The bantam section has all these centres entered with the exception of Newmarket, and the age limit is 15 years on May 1.

The age limits this season correspond with those of the O.A.B.A. and players may perform in either group if of age. There is no limit to the number of players that may be signed, but such names must be vouched for by the team managers and school principals.

Games are scheduled to start at 7 p.m. and four and one-half innings will constitute a game if the umpires decide it is too dark or wet to continue. The home team is responsible for notifying the visitors of unfavorable weather conditions. Each team will keep a regulation score book and forward results to the secretary within 24 hours of each game. The home team supplies the plate umpire and the visitors the base umpire. A $2 entry fee is payable by each club. This is the last year juvenile ball will be carried as the executive feel that boys of this age, having had the benefit of tuition and support as bantam and midgets, should be able to arrange their own leagues and sponsors.

From the league will go a winner known as York Lions into the provincial midget playdowns early in the fall. Games have been scheduled to start this week in Aurora, Newmarket and Richmond Hill, while the other towns will get going next week as soon as their diamonds are in shape. Every team is sponsored by a Lions club.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. Simmons, Holloway and Babcock, Aurora; Nighswander, Richmond Hill; McWhirter, Milliken; Daniels, Stouffville; Rose, Markham; and Appleton, Unionville.

WIN ONE GAME EACH

Aurora high school students broke even with Richmond Hill high school boys in softball last week. The locals won 8-6; and lost 12-2. Bill Mundell and Don Holman formed the winning Aurora battery in the first game and were opposed by Don Little and Mac Clement.

In the second game George Rumney took the mound for the Hill and was unbeatable. Basil Baver was the losing Aurora pitcher. The A.H.S. line-up was: c, Don Holman; p, Bill Mundell; 1b, Keith Kyle; 2b, Jim McDonald; 3b, Eric Smith; ss, Ron Simmons; of, Howard Patrick; cf, Fat Milne; Basil Berry, Norman Nigh.

FUND STILL GROWS

Further donations to the Aurora Board of Trade Memorial Site Fund, which have brought the total to $1,285.25, are: $30 from fat salvage campaign (Mrs. L. C. Lee, convener), $5 from a tea held by the Aurora United church W.A.

The Era and Express may be purchased in Aurora at Messrs. Morning's, Whitelaw's and Willis.

HILL TEAM HAS 10-6 VICTORY IN FIRST GAME

Richmond Hill high school baseball team defeated Aurora high school 10-6 in the opening hardball game of the season in the park on Friday. Richmond Hill, backed by sterling battery work by pitcher "Gooch" Upton and catcher Mac Clement took the lead in the first inning and were never headed. Errors and wild throws contributed greatly to the Aurora loss.

Ronnie Simmons tossed a three-hit game for the losers and deserved a better fate. Norman Stenden and Billy Neal played great ball for the winners, with Bill Mundell and Don Holman looking good for Aurora. In the last inning Peter King bashed out the longest hit of the day but suffered an injury as he rounded first.

Aurora line-up was as follows: c, Don Holman; p, Ron Simmons; 1b, Keith Kyle; 2b, P. King; 3b, Eric Smith; ss, Fat Milne; outfield, Howard Patrick, Bill Mundell and Jim McDonald. Herb Rose was plate umpire.

Kleinberg-Nobleton, Rev. C. J. Bailey transferred to Smooth Rock Falls. His successor is Rev. W. A. Westcott of Flesherton, formerly of Aurora. Kettleby, Rev. W. J. Burton transferred to Bond Head. He will be succeeded by Rev. A. Rintoul, Toronto.

Sutton West, the new pastor of Sutton United church is Rev. Earl Knechtel, formerly assistant at Toronto High Park United.

ENTERTAIN PARENTS

Parents and friends of Aurora high school students enjoyed a tea and display of home economics and shop work in the high school auditorium on Friday afternoon and evening. The display was under the direction of Miss Marie Griffin and Roy Faulkner, and included baking, sewing, Red Cross work, wood products, leathercraft, etc.

Tea was poured by Mrs. J. H. Knowles and Mrs. Wilfred Adams, with girls of the school assisting. A musical program included solos by Lorraine Fierheller and Sheila Barnes with Mrs. C. R. Boulding as accompanist. Donna Wilson was piano soloist, and Betty Preston and Reta Regan gave an accordion-piano duet. The visitors also saw classes at work.

FAVOR WINNERS

Nothing succeeds like success, and the final political meetings in Aurora the last three days of the North York campaign were a fair indication. The Liberal meeting on Thursday attracted only about 60. The next night the Progressive Conservatives drew a full house. By actual count the C.C.F. meeting on Saturday evening drew less than 25, outside of those on the platform.

DISLOCATES SHOULDER

During a baseball game in the town park on Friday, Peter King tripped and fell while running the bases and sustained a painful dislocated shoulder.

Three Aurora War Prisoners Are Glad To Be Home Again

Aurora welcomed home three of her air heroes, who until last month had been prisoners of war of the Nazis, this week. The returning airmen were Lieut. Dale King, WO1 George Graham and PO Robert Case.

Lieut. King, whose two brothers gave their lives in this war, is the son of Mrs. W. C. King, Yonge St. He enlisted in the army when under age in 1939, transferred to the R.C.A.F. and went overseas as an air gunner in 1942. On March 30, 1943, his plane was shot down over the Ruhr and he parachuted to safety. He was interned at Stalag Luft 3, and was able to escape from there by reason of Russian advances early in May. He arrived with other prisoners after going through enemy territory in the hands of American troops on May 6.

"I never expected to return," he told his mother. Dale since being in England has taken on 37 pounds and looks very fit but a bit older than his 23 years. He came home on a Dutch boat, and while it was slow it was "comfortable."

Arriving at Lachine, Que., prior to leave, he met his half-brother, Price Watts, Montreal, Que., and had his first family reunion. On Sunday evening his mother met him at Toronto, and Dale is now enjoying meeting his friends, and eating home cooking.

Cpl. Bill Moran, Meaford range, spent the weekend at his home.

Sgt. Don Glass, Tofino, B.C., is on furlough at his home. Pte. Herman Cawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cawley, 4th concession of King, has arrived home after serving overseas since 1943 with the Perth Regiment. He also served in Italy. He is now convalescing from a shoulder injury.

Cpl. Grant McCachen, R.C.A.F. Camp Borden, spent the weekend at his home. Sgt. Bruce Browning, home from overseas after five years' service, has received his honorable discharge and is now employed with the Toronto Shipbuilding Co.

COUNTESS IS GUEST

A distinguished guest of the district is Countess Terri du Moulin d'Ellerghien, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpson, Ballantrae. The countess is the daughter of the late Sir Thomas Tyler, physician to Queen Victoria, and her mother was a Spanish princess. Her husband, who died in Toronto, was a Belgium count, and a cousin of King Leopold of Belgium. When the Germans invaded Belgium in 1914 the family left for Scotland, where the countess was raised and then came to Canada. There are two children in the family, but for some time at least the countess and her children intend to remain in Canada.

FORM 10B ARE CHAMPS

Form 10B have been declared the softball champions of Aurora high school. It was the second straight win for the same team, although last year they were freshmen. The winning line-up read: c, David Summers; p, Bill Mundell; 1b, Keith Kyle; 2b, Jim McDonald; 3b, Art Ross; ss, Duncan Thomson; outfield, George Van Nostrand, Bill Kingdon, Ian Morrison.

Aurora news or classified advertising, Phone 131, Aurora.

WO1 George Graham arrived in Canada last Thursday via the Louis Pasteur and immediately contacted his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graham, Centre St. George looks well and is "glad to see Aurora again." He had been a prisoner of the Germans since December, 1942, the first Aurora boy to be taken prisoner, following his plane being shot down. Like Lieut. King, he is a member of the Caterpillar club. He was imprisoned at Stalag Luft 4, and was released by United Nations forces. George hopes to see his brother, Willard, who is with the Canadian army at Prince George, B.C. He has no plans for the immediate future but catching up with food and news of his friends.

PO Bob Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lancelot Case, looks in the pink despite harrowing experiences. Bob, a gunner, enlisted in 1941, went overseas the next year and was taken a prisoner in August, 1943. During his imprisonment he kept his family cheered with letters and even found time to do a spot of poetry. He was the last Aurora boy who was held a prisoner to be reported safe, arriving in England in mid-May.

PO Case received his commission a couple of days before arriving in Canada. He was released by Russian troops and made his way to Allied forces.

Pte. Don Sutton Home After 4 Years Service

Pte. Donald Sutton, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sutton, Victoria St., and one of three brothers on active service, arrived at his home on Saturday morning after an absence of four years. Donald enlisted in 1940 with the Dufferin-Haldimand Rifles, was stationed at Sussex, N.B., and Nanaimo, B.C., and went overseas in 1942.

He went into action on the continent shortly after D-Day. He was severely wounded last August and spent weeks in hospital before rejoining his unit for further action. Don was scheduled to arrive home a couple of weeks ago, but delayed his trip to see his brothers, Verduin, who was also wounded, and Howard, who arrived overseas a few months ago. Don is suffering from a leg injury but otherwise appears to be fit. His family were on hand to welcome him in Toronto and the Sutton residence was decorated with flags and banners for the occasion.

May 24 Quiet In Germany, Pte. Kester Hugo Writes

"This is really a quiet 24th of May to me and not even the sound of a firecracker around," Pte. Kester Hugo writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "Quite a different tale to just a few weeks ago, though. We still see and hear the odd mine blowing up and firing a short distance away in a Russian camp where civilians and soldiers are awaiting their return to their homeland. The civilians are those who were forced laborers in this land and they are sure a happy lot now. By the stories we hear each day here they are giving some of the Germans a taste of what they had to endure.

"No doubt you are wondering just where I am and I understand we are free now to open up a bit in our conversation. We are near the city of Oldenburg, not so very far from Bremen. We were in Oldenburg at the time hostilities ceased. Soon after we moved down here in an apple orchard and very shortly we expect to move far northwards and then may be in billets. It's grand under canvas as long as the weather is fine. We have had lovely weather until the past week and then the rain seems to come about every ten minutes and the sun peeps out for a few minutes.

"The last place we were at in Holland before coming into Germany was near Groninger. This is the second time we came into Germany. Quite a while ago we came in from Belgium and crossed the Rhine. What a sight. Sorry I couldn't have a camera with me. I have one but could not make use of it.

"Well, I intended first of all to thank you for the cigarettes which I received yesterday, the second carton the Veterans were good enough to send me. Many thanks to your organization for your kindness. No doubt some of the home town boys will soon be arriving home and how good the old town will look to them. As for me I cannot say how soon I shall reach the shores of good old Canada but it will feel good just to get out of this country. It sure has met its Waterloo and its just reward for its unbelievable beastly acts of cruelty."

"Owing to the fact I have volunteered for the Pacific, it will be some time yet before I expect or get the chance to settle down in the good old town of Newmarket." Sgt. Joseph H. Tunney writes the Veterans from Newfoundland. "As yet I haven't met any lads from home on this station, although I was talking to Norm Burling while visiting in the city of St. John's a few weeks ago.

"It may be of interest to know that I'm attached to an air-sea rescue squadron whose duty is to rescue survivors of a plane that has crashed or been forced down at sea or in an isolated region. For the former a life boat is dropped by means of very large parachutes.

"Thanking one and all, I hope it won't be too long before I'll be home again for good."

REMEMBER?

IT SEEMS that every now and then a new writer appears whose thought-processes are so mature and penetrating that the reader feels a distinct sense of loss for not having discovered him long ago. Such a writer is Frank Dobie, who was recently invited to take a professorship in American History at Cambridge University. Mr. Dobie likes to create the impression that he went to Cambridge with a straw in his mouth, but underlying the whimsical wit and forthright opinions of this Texan there is natural scholarship and a delightful respect for the subtleties of the people and the language which make this book about what England and Cambridge did to Mr. Dobie one of the best of our times. A TEXAN IN ENGLAND, McClelland and Stewart.

WE LIKE TO THINK THAT accelerated air travel will of necessity produce more books like the exquisite new novel by Letitia Preston Osborne, THEY CHANGE THEIR SKIES (Longmans Green). Against the sun-dozing background of Honduras of a week ago it paints a panorama of living romance from the lives of three Jewish refugees of Hitler's Reich, an Englishman, an "old guard Spaniard" and the romance of a normal American girl. This is a book of people who seem so real and so merry, sometimes so tragic, that you feel you can write them letters and talk to them.

DU BARRY FOUNDATION LOTION is soft and velvety, it helps protect the skin from summer drying without interfering with sun-tan. Du Barry Foundation Lotion is also a pleasant way to keep hands feminine and elbows from callousing. Use it after a clean-up and before applying powder for a smooth base, use it before Du Barry Leg Make-Up for very extra softness... adds the distinctness of an apple-blossom petal to your skin.

AFTER PICKING BERRIES, when you get that old familiar kink between the shoulder blades, try patting on some stimulating Sloan's Liniment. You'll feel the vitality creeping back to over-tired muscles as the circulation begins moving in to drive out the half-painful, half-numb feeling which comes from over-working seldom-used muscles. Sloan's is on the shelves of a good many million bathroom cabinets and on every drugstore shelf as well.

participated, he ran the two and one-half mile course in 14.25. Wm. Wallace, the M.D. 2 cross-country champion of last year, was second. Wallace, a former runner of Canada's Olympic and British Empire teams, was at Simcoe camp last year. Now he is a member of the P.T. staff at Newmarket. You can grab that these two lads will run one-two in the M.D. 2 meet and that No. 23 will grab the honors.

Flash Abram, bespectacled goalie of Brampton-Newmarket, is also a pretty fair sort of galloper and he will be on the team too. With the exception of Lieut. Robinson, the team is composed for the next six spots of unknowns but it is surprising just how much good talent is located in the army.

The camp will hold its annual big jamboree on July 2 as per usual and Capt. Tom George is busy as ever planning to get all the events filled and more varied than usual. Invitations have been sent out to most of the adjacent military centres for track and field artists and softball teams and of course, military displays, soccer and girls' softball will be one of the many "feetcha" attractions.

Back to sports days again after an absence of some years is the village of Beeton. It used to be that June 3 was one of the biggest sports days in the district along with Beeton fair, especially for softball, then it all died out. This year the villagers have resurrected their civic pride and decided to get started again with the result that a big day in the sports world is planned for July 2. Too bad it falls on the same day as Newmarket but the municipalities are far enough apart that they shouldn't conflict too much.

Summit Golf club is now ready to go back to pre-war golf after having a difficult time in company with most suburban golf clubs surviving war years satisfactorily. Only 250 members will be accommodated this season. The greens and fairways are being improved and given a break with the weather, the club should enjoy a profitable year.

The directors honored Arthur Crutenden, one of Ontario's best known professional golfers, with a life membership. "Crutty" was professional at Summit for 16 years, 1924-40, and he did much to bring the club into prominence, both for its course and players.

After a poor start, Marj McCann has her batting eye on the ball once again and in the last few games at Sunnyside has been pounding them out with the form that made her one of the leading batters in Canadian feminine softball. The change is noted in the improved play of her teammates too. Watch those Sunnyside averages from now on.

Earl Cook has apparently decided to give up his playing career in professional baseball and concentrate on the home front. At any rate, he is not yet with Toronto Leafs and is still around Stouffville. The return of Stouffville to baseball, with two minor teams has been received with wide smiles and a healthy respect throughout North York. Stouffville was once the hotbed of North York baseball and there is no reason why it shouldn't be so again. Cookie is slated to give the hometown kids the benefit of his years of experience and that should do much to get the teams away to a good start.

L. E. O'Neil of the last Stouffville baseball club has sent out a call for old uniforms and equipment, the park diamond is being put in shape and the other kid clubs can probably expect to face unusually tough opposition. The Lions club have voted $50 to start with but Stouffville teams in the past never had to worry very much about the greenbacks and it should be no exception now.

Newmarket, we feel, has made a grave mistake so far as the future of baseball is concerned by only entering a juvenile team this season. Bantam teams provide natural feeders for the older teams and Aurora and Richmond Hill are pretty well stocked right now for playing material with more to come. The newcomers to the league, Milliken, Unionville and Stouffville, all see the possibilities and have wisely decided on two teams. We understand the trouble in Newmarket is to get enough men to take an interest in the teams. It seems unbelievable that George Haskett should be expected to do a job single-handed after his hard work getting things going last season. How about some body giving him a hand? How about a house league among the kids below 14 in that new summer recreation school being conducted under the supervision of Fred Hall?

KESWICK
FOUR-YEAR-OLD TELLS
NOW "US VOTED"

Having now run out of election contests, Keswick is looking forward to its first quiet Monday in three weeks.

The four-year-old daughter of a Keswick family took great delight in announcing to the world how "us voted." And her delight was more than matched by the delight of all who heard her, because there just wasn't a chance of the family vote being the way the young lady announced it.

A silver tea in aid of the supply fund of the Woman's Missionary Society is being held at the United Church manse this Friday afternoon, June 15. Beginning at 2.30 there will be a brief program, in the course of which Mrs. C. R. Carscallen, Whitby, a member of the executive of the dominion board, United Church W.M.S., will speak.

Mrs. Carscallen and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Gowland, and granddaughter, Patricia, all of Whitby, are guests of Mrs. Carscallen's niece, Mrs. Gordon Lapp. Keswick Scouts entertained a visiting softball team from Sutton on Friday evening. In a free scoring game which was close most of the way Keswick emerged winners. The Sutton team was drawn from the boys who played in the Sunday-school hockey league last winter.

More than 50 people from Keswick and Ravenshoe United churches were in the vast congregations which packed Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, for the service which marked the 20th anniversary of church union in Canada. Some of them, mostly the men, stood throughout the three hours of music, prayer, preaching and pageantry.

Lieut. Kathleen Peel, N.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peel, who has been stationed in England, is spending a couple of probably only needs a bit of persuasion on somebody's part. But who will "bell the cat"? That's the $64 question. Who'll start it rolling?

Gerry Rose, brother of principal Duard Rose of Markham, is handling the Markies this season and like the old lady who lived in the leather footwear department, has so many applicants for the teams he can't make up his mind about them.

Seemed like old times to see a local youngster, Stew DeLaHaye, working hard to improve his fielding in the Aurora park the other night after practice was over and dusk neared. Coach Bill Holloway was prevailed upon to stay an extra few minutes and bat out the ball. That was the way it was throughout the towns and villages of North York around 25 years ago. The kids attended practices faithfully, competition was good for the spots on the team and if you wanted to make the grade you had to give up a lot of your spare time. It'll happen all over again probably even though this generation is a bit different from yours and mine.

Miss Bessie Terry spent Thursday and Friday in Toronto and attended the University of Toronto convocation and garden party.

Mrs. and Mrs. Freeman Pollock and Mrs. S. Kennedy spent Thursday in Toronto.

The lake road has been given a new coating of tar and chipped stone. Traffic was heavy over the weekend.

About 25 ladies of the Women's Institute visited Sandford W.I. last Thursday and gave the program. A special number on this was a paper on penicillin given by Mrs. W. McFarland, which was both interesting and educating as it dealt with the origin, making and results. After the program the ladies provided a lovely lunch and a nice social time was held, each society getting to know one another much better.

A number of cars full of United church people went to Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, on Sunday evening to join the vast audience of over 19,000 people who overflowed the Gardens and a goodly number going also to Carlton St. church to listen in on the radio. This was the 20th anniversary of church union and the committee in charge had spared nothing to make it a never-to-be-forgotten service. A choir of over 1,000 voices, led by a large orchestra and assisted by Miss Portia White, noted contralto singer, along with the pageant, were simply grand. The speakers, introduced by the moderator, Rev. J. Arnup, gave much food for thought. Visitation Evangelism was the theme and having every family going to church. This Rally was the inauguration of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom and rededication of the entire membership to the post-war tasks of the church as a whole.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie Fleury and son and Miss Marion Spence, Toronto, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens, Bounty, Sask., were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. Spence. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens remained for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Spence and Bobby of Goodwood were guests on Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. E. Spence.

The church will be beautifully decorated and all horticultural members are asked to be present. In the evening Rev. David Harrison, a returned missionary from China, will be the guest speaker. David Harrison is an old Mount Albert boy, son of the late Wm. Harrison, and has been in China for some years. Two of his family are still in the hands of the Japanese.

Mt. Albert Gospel Church
Purchases Rowland Hall

A sale of more than usual interest was terminated in Mount Albert last week when the Mount Albert Gospel church purchased the Rowland Masonic Lodge hall. The hall is the former Presbyterian church and was erected in 1864. It is situated where the Mount Albert cemetery is now located. Later it was moved into Mount Albert to the site of the present U.F.O. hall. In 1916, it was rebuilt, enlarged and moved to its present location. At the time of the church union in 1925, the building was closed, most of the members transferring their membership to the Methodist church. Two years later, it was sold to the Rowland Masonic lodge.

Of frame construction, it is reputed to be one of the finest Masonic buildings north of Toronto. The sale price was $4,500 and the Gospel church takes possession this Sunday, June 17.

The town fathers provided a piece of ground to which residents can take their garbage and it is suggested that it would look better if the garbage was not dumped on the road beside it. A few steps further in would improve the appearance.

NEWMARKET KIDS LOSE
OPENING GAME, 11-8

Newmarket's entry in the North York Hardball league opened their season last night at the Aurora town park with the Aurora squad providing the opposition. The Newmarket nine came home on the short end of an 11-8 decision. The locals got away to an early lead but were beaten out in the last of the seventh, errors paving the way for the canal towners' downfall. The league opening game for Newmarket will be next Wednesday, June 20, the Aurora club coming back to try for another decision over the Redmen.

WARN OF PENALTIES
AS INSULATORS BROKEN

Destruction of insulators on the hydro line between Green Lane and Sharon shut off the power in Newmarket and as far north as Keswick Sunday. It is believed the damage was done by boys shooting at the insulators with 22 rifles. Over $100 damage was done, hydro officials estimated.

The power went off at 2.18 p.m. and was off three hours in Newmarket. The service was not restored at Keswick until after 9 p.m.

Hydro officials pointed out that to break insulators is a criminal offense and warned that anyone found doing this damage would be liable for severe penalties. County police are patrolling the power line to prevent any further damage.

Vellore 'Ball Champs
Of Jr. Farmer Picnic

The annual picnic and dance of the York County Junior Farmers was held last Friday at Musselman's Lake with each of the six local clubs present in full force for the afternoon's athletic events and a record crowd of over 800 attending the dance at Cedar Beach arena in the evening. The ball games commenced at 2.45 in the afternoon. Sharon defeated Vellore by a score of 15-10 and Vellore led Virginia 12-5. In the second round Vellore eliminated Sharon on a score of 24-14 and Victoria Square won the closest contest of the day over Unionville with a 10-9 score on an extra inning.

Various novelty races completed the afternoon's program. These included ladies' nail driving contests, boys' shoe race, ladies tossing the rolling pins, and men and girls' 100-yard dash. Following a picnic supper Vellore proved too strong for Victoria Square and were declared the softball champions with a score of 22-7.

A new feature of this year's athletic program was the tug-of-war contest. Each of the six local clubs competed with seven men to a team. The Sharon club finally eliminated all other teams winning with an "extra special heave" over the Unionville strong men.

Regional Holstein Show
Scheduled For Oct. 10

Holstein breeders of this district will be interested in the announcement by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada that the championship show for this part of Ontario will be held this year at Oakville on Oct. 10. Exhibitors at Black and White Shows from 14 counties in the central Ontario district will compete there for regional honors. Prizewinners will be eligible for All-Canadian awards.

The judge will be J. D. Innes, Woodstock, with C. L. Goodhue, Vaudreuil, Que., as alternate in case Mr. Innes is unable to act.

For each of the past three years, four championship shows have been held in different parts of the province. Originally intended to take the place of the major exhibitions cancelled due to wartime conditions, they have proven very popular, with large entry lists and very keen competition prevailing.

The girls may register at any time. This is the first time that the North York Girls' Work Board has decided to run three camps to avoid overcrowding.
